PRESIDENT'S CORNER

I humbly welcome everyone to this third edition of the QSRBN Newsletter, which is gradually being improved to offer a wider range of interesting News and information from the Board to the different stakeholders.

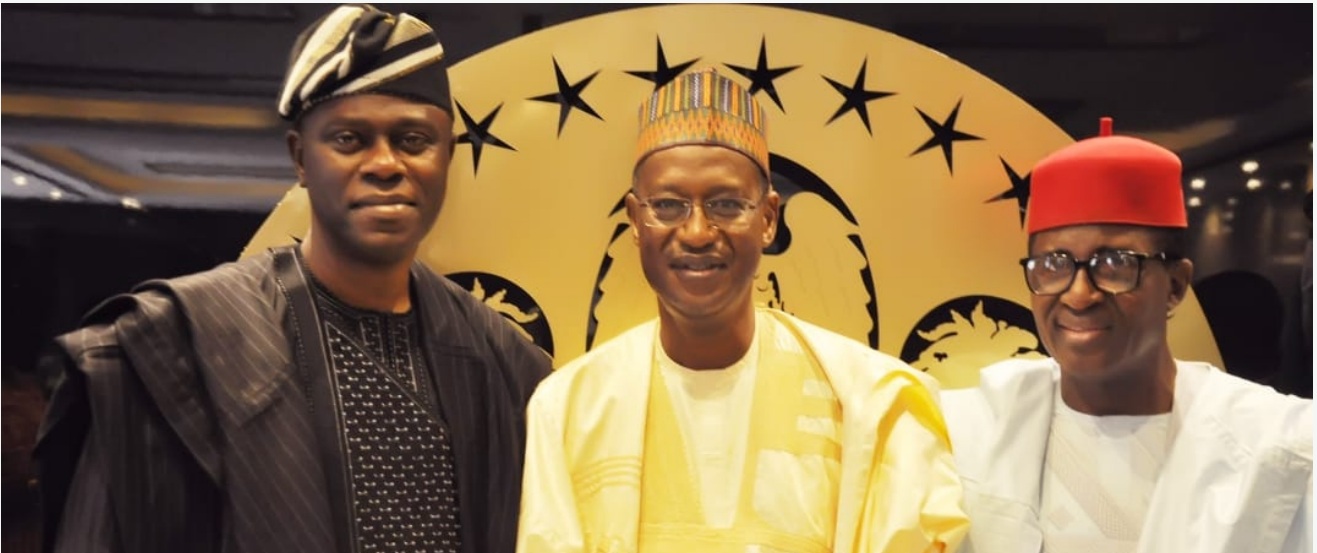

We would love to receive reactions from the readers as to either concurrence or otherwise, on the views or information expressed in the newsletter. Where registered members have needs to make enquiries from the Board or require clarification on any publication or Notices from the Board, such can also be addressed to the Editor of the QSRBN Newsletter. Both the enquiry correspondence and the Board's response to the enquiry shall be published in a subsequent edition after the receipt of the enquiry.

It is intended to have the Newsletter printed every quarter of the year hopefully, or at the latest half-yearly, and to also serve as a scorecard for the Board's performance with respect to its Agenda and Statutory functions.

1. This edition starts with the report of the Board's Courtesy visit to the Honourable Minister, Federal Ministry of Housing and Urban Development in April 2025 to brief the Minister on the activities of the Board since its inauguration a year earlier. The visit was also used to seek the Minister's assistance in securing the Land allocated to the Board by the FCT Minister from land grabbers.
2. Since the inauguration of this Board on the 26th of March 2024, we have furthered the regulatory functions of the Board and have successfully conducted two Registration processes and inducted close to 900 newly registered Qs, taking the total number of registered Qs in Nigeria to 5513

3. A list of Registered QSs as of 30th September, 2024 was published on 2nd October 2024 in two national dailies, namely, The Guardian Newspaper and The Daily Trust. Another updated list scheduled for 30th September, 2025, is being planned for publication on 2nd October, 2025.
 4. On 21st November, 2024, the Board consummated an MOU Agreement with the National Board of Technical Education of Nigeria (NBTE) to collaborate in conducting joint QSRBN/NBTE Accreditation exercises of Polytechnics and other Technical Schools.
 5. Concerning our monitoring and enforcement functions, since inauguration, this Board has received just one complaint of unprofessional conduct levied against a Registered QSs, involving plagiarism of the intellectual property of another Lecturer. The Board swiftly applied the Laws and set up an Investigation panel which diligently did an intense and thorough investigation of the complaint and recommended the case to the Disciplinary Committee of the Board which promptly dispensed appropriate disciplinary measures that commensurate with the offense whilst taking into consideration the overall conduct of the offender right from his date of qualification/ registration. The outcome of the case has since been made known to the relevant authorities as required by the QSRBN Act.
 6. May I seize this opportunity to advise Quantity Surveyors to please comport themselves and conduct their works or businesses in the best professional manner. Let's kindly follow the ethics of our trades, please do not say because others are "doing it," you also should do it. Others may be lucky not to be reported or complained about, but you may not be, and yours could be reported to the Board. The Board will surely investigate every complaint and would not hesitate to mete out appropriate disciplinary actions if any is found culpable.
 7. The Board is unrelentingly pursuing better and improved health and safety in our industry for the betterment of all stakeholders. Nigerian lives matter, especially on construction sites, and must be better preserved. We are grateful that the Hon. Minister of Housing and Urban Development, Arc. Ahmed Dangiwa FNIA is also taking this matter very seriously and for the first time on behalf of the Federal Government. It is clear that the Minister is very keen about upscaling the construction industry and is ready to do all it takes. The Board, on behalf of all Quantity Surveyors in Nigeria, wishes to commend the Minister on his bold and decisive moves and to assure of the QSs unflinching support in this regard.
 8. Lastly, the Board is rallying all stakeholders in the construction industry of the need to address the incoherence of the industry that is being exploited by quacks and foreigners who are not registered or licensed to practice in Nigeria and are thus undermining the industry, the business and welfare of construction professionals in Nigeria. The Board is calling for the establishment of a Commission to be managed by nominees of the Federal Government (from Ministry of Housing, Ministry of Works, Ministry of Trades and Ministry of Finance) and nominees of the construction profession institutions and the Regulatory Boards, which shall be registrable at the Corporate Affairs Commission (CAC) to coordinate and regulate the construction industry comprehensively. A suggested name of the Commission is the Building and Engineering Construction Commission-BECC. A body that will be similar to the SEC (Stock Exchange Commission) or the FMDQ (Financial Market Dealers Quotation), which are self-sustaining and currently regulate the stock trades and financial/money markets, respectively.
- On this note, I would like to wish every reader a happy reading, and I look forward to reactions or feedback on the content of this edition or on suggestions of areas you believe require urgent attention of the Board concerning our profession or the industry in general.
- Yours truly,
- Obafemi O. Onashile FNIQS, FRICS, PPNIQS, PPAAQS

COURTESY VISIT TO THE HONOURABLE MINISTER OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT ON 15TH APRIL, 2025

The leadership of the Quantity Surveying profession on 15th April, 2025 paid a courtesy visit to the Honourable Minister, Federal Ministry of Housing and Urban Development at the Ministry's headquarters, Mabushi, Abuja.

The QSRBN President, QS. Obafemi Onashile, who led the leadership of the quantity surveying profession to the Minister, called for a stricter control of high-rise buildings, recommended "laws such as a modified version of the current Building Code but without the design procedural prescriptions as currently included."

He noted that "for such notifiable and high structures there must be complete professional documentation stating all the elements of the building structure by design, as well as by detailed specifications through the Bills of Quantities and well costed such that the owner is well aware of all that is needed to be done and the costs to avoid the pressure of finding ways to reduce costs, which always lead to building collapse."

He also expressed the need for government construction contracts to have adjudication (a more straightforward route of evaluating disputes from construction procedural/technical perspectives by technical experts rather than by legal) as the ultimate choice for dispute resolution after the initial possible mediation processes.

He appealed for the minister's intervention on some challenges facing the Board, which include funding, possession of the Board's allocated plots of land, lack of coordination and cohesion in the construction industry.

In response, Dangiwa reaffirmed the ministry's commitment to supporting the Board to fulfill its statutory functions. He acknowledged the role of the QSRBN in the collective efforts to reposition Nigeria's housing and construction sector for greater efficiency, accountability, and professional excellence, saying that the quantity surveying profession was essential to ensuring cost transparency, value for money, and fiscal discipline in the execution of construction projects

Dangiwa further encouraged the Board to work closely with the ministry to deepen collaboration, transparency and accountability in housing delivery.

On concerns raised by the President of the QSRBN, the Minister assured that the issues around funding for the Board, as well as recovering their hijacked plots of land, would be checked and resolved.

QSRBN CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY CONSULTATIVE LUNCHEON

The Quantity Surveyors Registration Board of Nigeria under the leadership of its President, QS Obafemi Onashile, on Monday 12th May, 2025 at the NAF Conference Centre, Kado, Abuja, hosted a Construction Industry Consultative Luncheon for the leadership in the Built Environment.

The luncheon which had in attendance, Presidents of professional institutes and regulatory bodies in the built environment, President of the Niqs past presidents of Nigerian Institute of Quantity Surveyors (NIQS), member, House of representatives, the press and other invitees was convened as a strategic response to ongoing consultations aimed at improving synergy, cohesion, and collective action within the sector. This remarkable gathering brought together visionary leaders, seasoned professionals, and decision-makers across all segments of the industry.

The luncheon also served as a platform for stakeholders to deliberate on shared challenges, including project financing, professional overlaps, regulatory gaps, and the need for a unified voice in engaging government on policy matters.

The Guest Speaker at the Luncheon, QS. Joseph Olusegun Ajanlekoko, former President NIQS, presented a paper on the "Cooperation and Collaboration of Professionals in the construction industry.

In his paper, he highlighted the need for professionals in the built industry to synergize or collaborate to define the future of the industry. He said, technology increases client's requirements which brings new services and duties that would drive the demands for the professional.

This is evident in the new forms of procurement like PPPs that are now populating the public space.

He concluded by saying that cooperation and collaboration will be like a crusade that will take professionals in the built environment to their dream destination which is the prosperous construction industry.

Discussions at the Luncheon were forward-thinking, solution-driven, and deeply reflective of the need for a stronger, more united construction ecosystem, one where each profession retains its unique identity while embracing a common vision for national growth and infrastructure excellence.
